

New World Wheat King Interviewed

Shaunavon Farmer Admits Being 'Pretty Excited' at Win

REGINA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—The new world wheat king was "pretty excited."

After 27 years of competing, Richard (Dick) Robbins had the wheat crown awarded by the Hay and Grain Show at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

And in a telephone interview from Regina today, Mr. Robbins said "I feel pretty good about it."

His neighbors felt pretty good about it, too, as the phone rang all day, bringing congratulations.

It was a sample of Durum wheat that won for Mr. Robbins—a sample that escaped disastrous frosts hitting wheat at the rest of his yield.

On the telephone, Farmer Robbins sounded like a young fellow of 25—but he gave his age as 48. This was probably the most remarkable day he could remember of those years.

News that his hand-thrashed sample was in contention first reached Mr. Robbins over a radio broadcast this morning. This was the announcement that he had been named the champion Durum wheat exhibitor.

HEARD ON RADIO
The big news reached him via radio on a noon news broadcast. In the course of the 27 years he has been striving to win the top title, Mr. Robbins has won 10 silver championships twice for Durum wheat at Chicago. In 1941 he took the championship for white hard wheat at Chicago. Last year his best was the grand champion at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair.

It was a good year for Mr. Robbins at the Toronto Fair, too. A Durum wheat plant first, a Red wheat plant came third, his fax took a 3th place and his beans were 4th.

The king-making Durum sample was hand-thrashed in a small shed a series of hand sieves before it made the journey to Chicago.

Explaining his technique, Mr. Robbins said that mechanical threshing cracked the kernels and the debris showed up under a magnifying glass.

The new world wheat king has been farming a four-acre section of land at Shaunavon since 1939. His operations include grain production, including a market garden and fruit orchard where he grows cranberries, standard apples, pines, cherries, strawberries, and gooseberries.

Mr. Robbins is a registered grain grower, member of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, and a life member of the Field Husbandry Association.

Born at Chicago, a suburb of London, Eng., Mr. Robbins moved to Canada in 1901. Before coming to farming at Shaunavon, he worked in a store in Regina, Sask., and was a grain buyer at Chaplin, Sask.

His wife, the wheat king's wife, was just as "victorious and excited" as he was.

A son, George, is a former member of the RCAF and now is an aeronautical engineer with Canadian Pacific Airlines manager. A daughter, Mary, is married to farmer Gordon Benier at Torrington, Alta.

Mr. Robbins said he won't go to Chicago to receive his award.

HOW DREADFUL!
Court Disagrees With 'La-Di-Dah' Landlord

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(Regina)—A London landlord joined the landlord, "It is detrimental to this class of house for people to carry slop."

The rent tribunal didn't think so. It not only upheld Mr. McGowan as a desirable tenant, but reduced his rent as well as his share of the house.

Mr. McGowan said his landlord to tell the tribunal what kind of slop.

Pyramid Clubs May Be Probed

more profitable version of the old chain letter.

It is a little more complicated than the chain letter in which you enclose a dime in the hope that "in time you will receive 30,000 dimes."

And it's a little more practical than another chain that was once popular: "Bundle up your wife and send her to the person at the top of this list: when your name reaches the top you will receive $10,000 in gold."

In the "Meet Your Neighbor" chain, the holder member joins the club as a "guest," meeting at the home of a "host," or member of several days' standing in the club. He pays $1 to join the club; that is the only charge.

OTHER GUESTS

Next he becomes a worker, inducing other "guests" to join the club.

On the following night his position in the pyramid is designated as "boy," and by this time he is tabulating the names of new members and the places of subsequent meetings on special work sheets.

On the fourth night he is a host, entertaining workers and guests.

An appearance at the home of three hosts, qualifies him for the position of the "ladder" of the pyramid, and when he has moved to the top rank of the ladder the money begins to roll in.

TOP OF LIST
Those attending each meeting only him that his name is at the top of the list and that the dollars collected from new members are now his.

Only other duty of the top man on the ladder is that of collecting the payoff.

Mr. Robbins said he has found four friends helping her collect the funds from various meetings.

SYSTEM USED
As in the chain letter scheme, the "first in, first out" system is used. The organizer can collect $1,024 before the next-in-line begins to collect and so on down the line.

At each party attended by 15 women, each pays a party. It is in turn each give a dollar.

Mathematicians say it is impossible for the pyramid to function in the manner described, because the cause a completed pyramid with every one collecting would need 60,000 people.

The pyramid usually breaks down under its own weight after the first or two at the top have collected.

Club membership must double daily in order to keep the club alive which would exhaust Edmonton's population in a few days.

Similar clubs have been active in Winnipeg, Vancouver, Toronto and Montreal, although this is their first appearance in the city.

Winnipeg police have already issued a warning in club members telling them to pull out. They believe that the ones responsible for the birth of the club is that city have pulled out leaving the last fortunate ones out of their money.

Two Men Injured In North Explosion

Gas Delayed at Dawson Creek When Dust Trap Explodes

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. Nov. 28.—Diagnosis of a faulty dust trap in the new natural gas regulation station here resulted in the hospitalization of two men and the miraculous escape of a third Saturday afternoon.

Five broken ribs and two broken legs, plus numerous cuts and abrasions was the extent of the injuries sustained by Fred Stansfield, local manager of the B.C. Power Commission.

George Bonner, employee of Northland Utilities, the company for the pipeline into this northern B.C. town, suffered a cut over his right eye with possible concussion.

Both men were under observation in St. Joseph's Hospital, Dawson Creek.

ESCAPED INJURY
Miraculously escaping injury was Stan Richardson, manager for the gas company. Richardson was standing directly in front of the two injured men when the accident occurred.

The accident occurred in a dust trap, at the new, erected regulator on the outskirts of town, breaking into fragments under a pressure of 300 pounds.

GAS DELAYED
The town has been anxiously awaiting the opening of the first natural gas service and plumbers and gas men have been frantically busy preparing for the opening of the line on November 30.

Gas officials here say that opening of service will necessarily be delayed at least one week until damage to the regulator has been repaired.

Shock of New U.S. Dollar Rate Seen

Tourist Men Debate Way To Keep Americans Coming

By James R. Nelson
Exclusive to The Bulletin
OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(UPI)—Tourist officials searched today for a way to tell Americans their dollars weren't worth as much as they used to be in Canada and still keep the tourist business humming.

The problem was billed as a major headache as federal and provincial tourist authorities got together today in Ottawa to discuss with representatives of railroads, airlines, steamship and bus companies.

Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian government travel bureau, said delegates at the Dominion-Provincial tourist conference had to work out a suitable way of telling Americans they no longer will get a 15 per cent premium on their money when they visit Canada.

The premium disappeared when the government freed the Canadian dollar from a fixed exchange rate. "American tourists will have to be satisfied with the prevailing rate of exchange next year," Dolan said. "We want to make sure that all Americans know this before they come to Canada for their vacations."

He said, however, he doubted that the reduced value of the American dollar in Canada would result in a drop in the number of U.S. travellers visiting this country next year.

SLOGAN SOUGHT
The travel experts, who started their meeting yesterday, also lined up plans for a slogan to be used next year to attract visitors to Canada from the United States and other parts of the world.

The conference started five hours yesterday drafting a 1951 plan to encourage more Americans to make Canada their vacation headquarters.

The planning came amid fears of a slump in U.S. tourist traffic because of a campaign in the United States to publicize its own playgrounds and a drive by European countries, led by Britain, to garner dollars through travel.

Dolan said yesterday the Canadian government would open a travel bureau in New York City next month as part of its drive to persuade more visitors to come north across the border.

U.S. Bar Plans Commie Check

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—President, Cady Fowler of the American Bar Association yesterday named a special committee to investigate lawyers "known to be members of the Communist Party" or followers of the "party line."

Fowler said the group will study Communist tactics, strategy and objectives "particularly as they relate to the obstruction of proper court procedure and law enforcement by members of the bar throughout the country."

Korean Students Find Sanctuary In Canada

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28.—(UPI)—came they stowed away on a freighter. The ship docked in Vancouver from fear has ended happily for two young Korean students.

ROADS BLOCKED
Pong Cheyue, 21, and Yong Wang Lee, 22, have been granted sanctuary in Canada. Months of detention and harrowing escapes behind them, they are settled at a home in the Fraser Valley.

An order for their release from custody was received by officials here from Immigration Minister Harris. Yong and Pong were freed after sympathizers posted bond of $1,000.

The odyssey began last January in North Korea. Anti-Communists and recognized as such, they fled south to the West-recognized republic. But they said they were unsure there, and when the chance

But the deportation order stood. They became desperate. Only hours before they were due to sail, they escaped and found jobs as farm laborers. Then Korea became a battleground.

The two students surrendered. They appealed the deportation order and waited in suspense the following months. Their gamble was successful.

Christmas Gifts In Mail From Tars In Far East

A UNITED NATIONS NAVAL BASE IN JAPAN, Nov. 28.—(UPI)—Canadian sailors in the Far East have finished their Christmas shopping and gaily decorated packages containing exotic eastern gifts are in the mail for the folks back home.

The 800 officers and men aboard the destroyers Cayuga, Sioux and Athabaskan had to shop early to ensure delivery of their presents in Canada by Dec. 25.

Originally the deadline for mail to Canada was Dec. 1. However, the date was set ahead when the three ships sailed last week for further patrol duties off the west coast of Korea.

Christmas mail from servicemen in the Far East will be flown to Canada by the RCAF Pacific air lift.

Relatives and friends of crew members of the three destroyers will receive a welcome surprise when they open their gifts on Christmas Day.

Most of the gifts were bought at this base or during the ship's visit to Hong Kong. They include items ranging from silk kimonos to hand-carved chests and a wide assortment of gifts, curious and rare compared with the run-of-the-mill presents at home.

CHRISTMAS AHEAD
Christmas was in the air at this base for some time before the destroyers left on their new patrol. The post office shore was de-mas cars echoed from a loud-speaker system.

On board ship, Christmas music also had replaced the live recordings generally heard over the loud-speaker system.

A number of the men, including AS. Alex Melton, Kitchener, Ont. and Victoria, B.C., sent special gifts home for baby sons and daughters born since they left Esquimalt last July.

The Sioux led in this respect, with 12 proud fathers who have yet to see the latest additions to their families.

Meeting to Stop Border Clashes
TEL AVIV, Israel, Nov. 28.—(UPI)—A mixed Arab-Jewish commission meeting at one of Jerusalem's gates has signed an agreement to put a stop to a recent series of border clashes.

Under the agreement, Israel and Hashemite Jordan will order their armies to prevent trespassing, shooting of children under any circumstances, and molesting and mistreatment of women.

Hopes at Drumheller

Dashed by Dud Well

By C. W. Myers
Bullitt Oil Editor

Naco Drumheller No. 2 has turned out to be another dud well, according to the Naco Oil Co., which says it is a dud well.

The information given that the well was a dud well Sunday night was false. Also a statement made by an official to the effect that the discovery was not Lower Cretaceous in age appears to have been erroneous.

The Cretaceous oil appears to be coming from a sand similar to that which yielded the Naco wet gas discovery six miles to the east.

An effective pay zone of about 30 feet has been opened up 4,425 feet from the surface and a recovery of 3,500 bbl. of oil and 270 feet of mudstone fresh water.

A previous test of 4,425 ft. half test yielded recovery of 1,570 feet of gas oil and 20 feet of oil.

Well expected to test oil. Officials said the Madison had not yet been reached.

Naco represents the efforts of private capital from Washington and Idaho. Some 20 quarters are owned by the group in the vicinity of the well.

Excitement about the find dropped off suddenly yesterday when it was found the oil source was Lower Cretaceous rather than Madison or Devonian which had been expected.

Well would have been the depth 5,000 feet as was reported.

Development of three quarters northeast of the Woodhead section of the Leduc field was announced yesterday by officials of Decal Petroleum Co.

At the same time the company announced a financing deal with a group of financial groups in Montreal and which when completed would net the Decal treasury over $200,000.

This would be in addition to the $300,000 cash position of the company at present.

Officials said that in addition to the cash the company holds securities worth approximately $400,000 at present market values.

The Woodhead acreage will be drilled immediately by the Decal syndicate. Decal has two-thirds of the deal and East Crest, Plank, and Northern Extensions each has one-third.

The well will go down in the northwest quarter of Section 21-31-2, about two and a half miles northeast of the Gilbert Lower Cretaceous pool at Woodhead and a mile and a half northwest of the Whitford pool. The territory is wide open.

Rail Hours Discussed

By C. W. Myers
Bullitt Oil Editor

The leaders of Canada's two major railway unions met yesterday with railroad officials to work out the procedure for the new 48-hour week.

Frank H. Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee for 15 international railway brotherhoods, and A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, were the chief spokesmen for the 125,000 railworkers in Canada.

Yesterday's session was to deal merely with the implementing of the 48-hour week, except for the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways agreed to accept following the nine-day rail strike last August.

They are true horses, not ponies, and only one in Canada and one in the United States.

Their history is unique. Many years ago three horses strayed and became trapped in a cold-sterile area in the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River. They survived and multiplied, but through years of inbreeding and shortage of food they gradually became stunted in size.

It is understood they are considered a national rarity, and can no longer be exported from the United States.

They are fairly common in Canada, especially in the east where they are widely used in sleigh teams, but as far as is known there are no other little horses in this country.

Canadian, Mexican Trade Seen Approaching Record

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 28.—(UPI)—Trade between Mexico and Canada may establish new postwar records this year, figures released by Mexico's largest private bank showed today.

The Banco Nacional reported that Mexican exports to Canada from January to July of this year were valued at $15,516,183 and imports were worth $16,945,068. The balance in Mexico's favor was $8,512,025, the bank reported.

Figures did not change Canada's position as the second nation in importance in both Mexican import and export trade. The United States is first.

VALUES PLACED
Mexican exports to Canada were valued at $25,984,258 in 1949 and imports were worth $15,433,218. The bank commented that the fact that Mexico's economy and Canada were complementary.

is a strong argument in favor of expansion of trade between the two countries. It said Mexico's most important export to Canada is raw cotton, "bales of which amounted, in the two-year period 1948-49, to 55 million dollars."

MEXICAN EXPORTS
Fresh tomatoes, salt hemp, peanuts, coffee, pineapple and citrus fruits also figured in the list of Mexican exports to the dominion.

Canada sent Mexican newspaper, whiskey, boot leather, cellulose for papermaking and other articles. Despite her unfavorable trade balance with Mexico, "Canada's high level of production and her relatively low consumption gains for her place among exporting countries," and enables her to show a favorable (overall) trade balance," Banco Nacional said.

"Daddy, what makes it hum?"

"HARNESSED RAINBOWS, SONNY! It's a true story... In Shipshaw powerhouse you are awed by the hum of twelve generators. They are driven by rain and snow which fill Lake St. John and pour down the Saguenay River.

The water is channelled to a man-made lake on top of it. Then it rushes down tunnels drilled through solid rock to dash against turbines like the model at which the boy is leaning—but weighing 50 tons.

The turbines drive generators. The electricity they generate powers to nearby Anada. There it shines shining aluminum out of houses from British Columbia.

Over 100 Canadian companies form aluminum into all sorts of useful articles. All this means work for Canadians. This country supplies nothing but the raindrop—and the brains, hands and enterprise to harness them.

The hum in the power house at Shipshaw is a hum of progress. It is a sound of Canada's standard of living going up...

Cliff Ehrle Doubles in Brass

Cliff Ehrle looked more than a little pleased with himself, and well he might. The Regina Caps had just finished battling Flyers to a 2-2 tie. The result had been against the records of the teams to this point in the 1950-51 Western Canada Hockey League chase.

"You won't be wanting to appoint a coach at all if this keeps up," a newspaperman accented him. The vest-pocket edition Regina hotelman had steered the Caps from the bench in the absence of their coach.

It so happens that the Reginnas are fresh out of coaches. Ken Doraty, who had gotten to the stage where he was trying to read at night with the lights out, chucked the job last week.

The replacement, whoever he is to be, hasn't been found. In the meantime manager Ehrle is directing traffic in and out of the players' box.

Garth Boesch, one time Toronto Maple Leaf defenceman, has been fingered in several quarters as the likely successor of the disillustrious Doraty.

Questioned about the chances of this development Ehrle indicated that he, anyway, was a long way from sold on the idea that Boesch, who affects a moustache, all says heavy-weight champion Ezzard Charles, was the answer to what ails the basement dwelling Caps.

"It might be Boesch," he sparred. "I think he could get away from his farm long enough to take the job." Then, as an afterthought, "But how do I know for sure he's a coach?"

"From another source, close to Ehrle, it was learned later that the present arrangement will continue for the next couple of games. The Cap manager will double in brass, with former National Hockey League George Allen acting as his assistant.

Then, barring the unforeseen, Ehrle will go back to his managing, period, with Allen formally installed as coach.

This would serve to sidetrack Boesch, or anyone else who is harboring ideas of succeeding Doraty.

Asked if there was anything in the report that Caps might drop out because so many thousands of Reginnas are finding it expedient to fly away from their home games, Ehrle shook his head.

"I don't think that's likely to happen. I'm pretty sure the league'll help us before it gets that bad."

As to how "bad" the Cap situation is after seven weeks of play, Ehrle refused anything for the record. "I don't want to appear like we're crying," he said somewhat grimly.

One hears that it would "cost" the backers of the Caps $22,000 to get out at this time.

The Regina aggregation, off what it showed against the league leading Flyers last night, looks capable of bouncing up off the WCHL mat anytime now.

Bev Bentley was immense in goal (ask several Flyers who thought they had him "cold" about this). Big Vic Myles might yet bring order to the traitorist department, the defence.

Up front the Caps are well enough stocked, particularly when the veteran Allen rounds into top condition, speed merchant "Toby" Brown comes off the injured list and Johnny Harms, previously a prolific pointgetter in the United States loop, gets to rolling.

Verily, it might pay Regina hockey followers to be a little more patient with the current Cap machine.

But until they climb back on the bandwagon, if there it can be assumed the other teams will make certain Caps are "still in the league."

Bosox Sign Lou Boudreau, Now Seek Help on 'Mound

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox' announcement of signing Lou Boudreau, deposed Cleveland manager, to a player contract yesterday, introduced the trading gears for last week's major league baseball meetings.

It also indicated that Vern Stephens, regular shortstop for the last three seasons, and Red Sox bait in possible deals for much-needed pitching strength.

"Now that we have Boudreau, we can afford to give up a regular infielder to get pitchers," said Boston manager Steve O'Neill. "I will be in St. Petersburg, Fla., for the major league meetings next Monday and I will not use any time finding out the pitchers who are available."

Boudreau, in Harvey, Ill., said, "Where and when I will play for Boston Red Sox is strictly up to Manager Steve O'Neill."

Boudreau, reported to have had a $60,000 manager-player

LOU BOUDREAU contract with Cleveland, added, "It was between the Red Sox and New York Yankees all the way."

Despite Cronin's silence, it is known that the Red Sox are in the market for such established pitchers as Philadelphia's Allie Pie, Lou Brissie or St. Louis Browns' Ned Garver.

There are several other deals

Skip Will Adapt Style to Ice

(This is the 16th in a series of curling articles written exclusively for the Bulletin by Billy Rose, former Canadian champion from Sedgewick.)

Today, as we near the end of our series on curling, I'd like to discuss ice and ice conditions.

Before a match begins, the ice surface is polished to give it a uniform roughness. Usually the people consists of a sprinkle of hot water in very small droplets.

A freshly polished surface is so during the early ends but becomes keener as the game progresses.

All ice sheets are not straight. For example, an in-lure may run straight and out-lure may pull as much as five feet. Or both turns may run straight down the center but fall away on either side.

There is no pattern to tricky ice and the skip who adapts himself to it best has a big edge in the game. My advice to the skip is to watch every rock like a hawk for several ends to see which way the ice is swinging.

Often there will be a run in the ice, or a fall in a certain spot, and if you do not know the spot it may cost you the game. You will find it good strategy to put a rock on a hill with draw weight when take-out weight won't climb out of the run.

Here are several more terms for your curling glossary:

WICK—Striking a rock so as to roll the played stone to a required point, or the stone struck to a required point.

RAISING—Striking a stone into a better counting position.

CHIPPING THE WINNER—Striking the shot rock.

DRAWING THROUGH A POINT—A port is a path between two stones, wide enough for a rock to pass through.

Annual 'Spiel Opens Feb. 5

Alberta Curling Association's week-long annual bonspiel—otherwise the 'Edmonton bonspiel'—will open Mon. Feb. 5, it was learned yesterday.

It will mark the 31st annual spiel without miss, for the ACA, president of which is Granite Club's popular Bert Robertson, Jim McCool is the longtime secretary-treasurer.

While nothing is definite as yet, it's understood that several changes will be instituted at this year's spiel, including the introduction of a seven game draw, instead of the 10-game "backbreaker", has been in use for the past five years.

"Nothing has been decided about the draw," secretary-treasurer McCool said yesterday. "But the committee is at work on it right now."

He intimated that something would be forthcoming shortly about the type of draw to be used. Widespread opposition, particularly on the part of out-of-town entries, has been evidenced for sometime against the 10-game ACA draw. Its opponents claimed it made the annual Edmonton 'spiel a case of "all work and no time for play."

Dates for other events on the Alberta Curling Association are as follows:

British Consols, Feb. 19 (this is tentative); high school, northern district playoffs, at Edmonton, Feb. 23; provincial final, also at Edmonton, Feb. 18.

HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE FIGHT POSTPONED

CINCINNATI, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Snow-covered streets and traffic hazards forced a one-week postponement of tonight's scheduled heavy-weight title fight between Ezzard Charles and Nick Barone. The new date is Dec. 6.

The city boxing commission readily approved the delay requested by promoter Sam Becker.

City officials let it be known early in the day that they recommended a postponement "because the traffic problem would be insurmountable."

Medicine Hat Plays Oil Kings Tonight

Edmonton Oil Kings will be seeking their second straight junior hockey triumph tonight when they clash with Medicine Hat Tigers of the Western Canada Junior Hockey League at the Gardens.

Game time is 8:30. Last week coach Moe Rimsdahl's crew flattened Cross West Pass Lions 4-1 in their first game of the season. The same Oil King roster—with the exception of goalkeeper Buddy Noon—will oppose the Tigers this evening.

Noon, formerly associated with the "Hat," will be replaced by Laurie Hodgson, reminder with the provincial champion EAC juveniles last winter.

Medicine Hat still hasn't granted Noon his release but Oil King manager Ernie Smellie will discuss the matter with Tiger coach Joe Fisher today.

Smellie also announced last night that Jack MacDonald has been released by Regina Pats and

Boldness Urged In Indo-China

U.S. Appeal Aimed Toward India, Indonesia Neighbors

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The United States today made a bid for help from Asia's free countries for the defence of Indo-China against "Communist colonialism."

Rusk, assistant secretary of state, called for the fight against Red invaders of Indo-China to be directed "with boldness and renewed resolution."

Rusk said France now has announced independence to 27,000,000 Indo-Chinese who are fighting with the French against Communist forces. He said the United States has earmarked $300,000,000 and $400,000,000 in military aid for Indo-China during the next two years.

Rusk said in a statement: "The United States government hopes that other free nations will make every contribution within their power to enable the (Indo-Chinese) Associated States and their partners in the French Union to accomplish their mission of freedom."

The appeal was clearly directed at Indo-China's Asiatic neighbors, including India and Indonesia.

May Be Alive Rebel Leader

SAIGON, Indo-China, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Ho Chi Minh, Moscow-trained Vietnamese rebel leader believed killed in a French air bombardment, was reported today to be alive and probably in China.

The Vietnamese radio said the Nationalist (Vietnam) cabinet had met at an undisclosed location and that Ho had presided. French reports 17 days ago listed Ho as a possible casualty of a French air attack on the town of Langkai.

The loss today of the French frontier post of Phuoc Ninh, 21 miles northeast of the coastal city of Munay, indicated Vietnamese forces were attempting a squeeze play for Munay, the eastern anchor of the French frontier defense line.

French army headquarters said Vietnamese guerrillas had sabotaged the vital rail line between Hanoi and the adjacent airport Haiphong.

CLOSE TO COURT

Some firms are closer than they think to being hauled into court, the spokesman indicated.

"We have taken notice of several apparent violations and conducted a number of inquiries," he said. "We are well aware that some dealers are being tried."

One, reported to the department by a firm's competitor, was worked out by the storekeeper loaning a cover his down payment and taking the amount of the "loan" onto the purchase price.

Woman Injured As 12 Train Cars Derailed

HEATH, O., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Twelve cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad train derailed near here today. One woman passenger was injured.

A railroad spokesman said the train was a combination passenger-freight train. Four of the 12 cars in the train carried passengers. None of the cars overturned.

The spokesman said all but the last car, a sleeper, were derailed. The train was en route from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh.

Conference Aim Outlined by Holland

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—Prime Minister Sidney Holland of New Zealand, opening the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association conference yesterday, said its aim was common understanding and strengthening of friendship between brother nations represented. He described the conference, which was attended by 40 different delegations, as the most representative one in the history of the British Commonwealth.

Escapee Goes Back to Jail

CALGARY, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Cyril Hallan, alias Robert Taylor, 25, was en route to the Ontario reformatory at Mimico today, after 13 years of freedom which he voluntarily ended a week ago.

Hallan was picked up here by a police escort from the east, after spending one week in jail on a nominal charge of vagrancy. Last Monday, at Turner Valley, he walked into the RCMP office and told the constable on duty that he had escaped from the Ontario reformatory in 1937 and had enjoyed freedom ever since.

He gave himself up, Hallan said, because he wanted to get married and go to England—neither of which projects he wanted to undertake with his assumed name of Robert Taylor.

Hallan, who was born at Lincoln, England, and came to Canada in 1929, was serving an 18 month sentence for armed robbery when he escaped from Mimico.

TURKS, AUSSIES

Enemies at Gallipoli Now Buddies in Korea

ON THE NORTHWEST FRONT IN KOREA, Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—Turks and Aussies, bitter opponents in the bloody Gallipoli campaign of the First World War—met today as comrades in arms under the United Nations banner.

On the alert for action on the frozen battlefields where the Communists are driving forward savagely, the Australians and Turks came together on a crowded road in a rear area.

There were cheers and catcalls from the aloof-haired Aussies at the sight of the Turkish crescent-and-star emblem; the olive-clad Turks replied with friendly grins.

Unlike the Australians, members of the British Commonwealth brigade, the Turks have not yet seen front-line action although they have been in operation as security patrols against guerrillas.

A U.S. soldier, looking at the mountaineer, kiltie-carrying Turks, commented: "I hope they head them in the right direction when they let those Turks go. They'll kill everyone in front of them."

Now Behind '8-B'

CHARLESTON, S.C., Nov. 28.—(AP)—An "8-B" street incident charged with stabbing a "C" street resident at a spot marked "X" on "D" street was ordered held in magistrate's court here yesterday. Bond was set at one "$1,000."

Hudson's Bay Company Celebrates Diamond Jubilee in Edmonton

SYMBOL OF PROGRESS in Canada's most northerly city, Hudson's Bay Company's ultra-modern streamlined store in heart of downtown business section rises above site of tiny frame store of 1890's when Edmonton was frontier outpost and one-sided street of shacks. Sixty years ago even smaller store at 98 street was

Bay's first retail merchandise outlet in Edmonton, selling beans and bacon to pioneers with same efficiency

The Bay now retails goods from all nations of world to city's 150,000 population.

First Bay Blanket Was Sold In 1779

Event Is Recorded In Minutes of Company

The earliest recorded transaction in connection with the Hudson's Bay "Point" Blanket is in the minutes of a meeting of the Committee of the Hudson's Bay Company held in London, on Dec. 22, 1779.

There is little doubt, however, that the blankets were made to the Company's specifications many years before that date.

In a letter to the London Committee from Thomas Hutchins, chief of Albany Fort on Hudson Bay, written in 1780, Hutchins wrote that the committee had misunderstood about the price of the pointed blankets as the points were known to every Indian to be the price paid to each as 2½ points, 2½ beaver, 3 points, 3 beaver, etc.

The point on the Blanket in its present standardized form is comparatively modern, being introduced in 1850. Prior to that date blankets for Hudson's Bay Company were made with the bar, only by individuals in their own homes, each marker putting a distinctive mark, "a point" on his product to show the size and weight.

These "Points" were in colored wools and usually about one inch long. The origin of the bar is unknown, dating probably to the birth of the very ancient industry of blanket making.

MANUFACTURE

The method of manufacture of Hudson's Bay "Point" Blankets produces that quality which has made them famous the world over. Selected wools from England, Wales, New Zealand and India each with special qualities, are employed in the making of these blankets.

The wool is dyed before spinning which insures that every fibre is thoroughly dyed, the color thereby becoming much more dependable than when dyeing takes place after the yarn has been spun, which is frequently the method followed in other blankets. Pure indigo blue color is used for the dyeing of the "Points" the bars of the standard colored blankets, and for the blue blankets.

The blankets are not bleached with sulphur like the ordinary blankets, so at no time, wet or dry, is there any unpleasant smell. They are air and sun dried, which has the effect of brightening the color and there is little doubt that it is this drying which gives that peculiar freshness which they never entirely lose.

When the blankets are first woven they are one-half greater in size than is required in the finished product. Thus a 4 point blanket in its original state is 112 inches wide and is then reduced in size to the required 72 inches. The milliner which prevents any further shrinkage of the blankets is done by doubling up the blankets and passing them through a narrow trough and literally pounding them with large wooden mallets. It is also this milliner which prevents blankets from hardening when exposed to the most trying weather conditions.

Air Changed Every 12 Mins

Approximately 333,000 cubic feet of healthy air circulate throughout the "Bay" Store.

The air is changed every 12 minutes and is constantly kept at the proper humidity. The instrument controlling this facility is controlled scientifically.

The air taken into the store is processed, making it absolutely dustproof.

Refrig. System All Automatic

The decentralized refrigeration system is entirely automatic and produces not only the correct temperature but also the right humidity required to keep food in the proper state of preservation.

Another unusual addition to the Hudson's Bay Store is the fact the entire roof of the store is covered with water, assuring in brewing the store cool in the summer time.

SMILE OF APPROVAL is given by George Formby, noted stage and screen star, as he tries on a world-famous Hudson's Bay blanket coat, presented to him by the local store. The Hudson's Bay blanket is an exclusive product of the company.

HBC Helped Present Edmonton's First Fair

Hudson's Bay Company assisted in the presentation of Edmonton's first fair—fore-runner of the annual exhibition that is now famous.

In 1858, two years before the Bay's fur trading post gave place to its first retail store in Edmonton, a group of pioneers associated themselves in the Edmonton Agricultural Society.

They planned to stage a fair that would "prove to the world" that Northern Alberta was a "great potential source of farming wealth." It was the Hudson's Bay Company that supplied the first "fair grounds."

Factor of the Bay fort, Richard Hardisty, provided two rough staves of garments.

Latest Type Fur Storage

The Hudson's Bay Co. store also boasts the latest type of fur storage in their store here.

The fumigation process used by the "Bay" insures absolute destruction of all moths, eggs and larvae in the fur. This system takes 24 hours.

The store vault can hold thousands of garments.

On Your Diamond Jubilee

You have grown great with a great city

Sixty years is a long time . . . longer than we've been in business. Hence we can't recall the days when you opened to serve the needs of the tiny trading post that has since become the City of Edmonton.

But we can recall the past fifty years, because that's how long it has been since the first C.C.M. bicycles began to filter westward . . . to be followed later by C.C.M. autos and children's vehicles.

Today you hold a well-earned place in the heart of a city whose rapid, successful growth parallels that of the West itself.

We take great pleasure in joining with other Canadian manufacturers and the citizens of Edmonton to congratulate you on sixty years of successful and constructive operation.

CARRYING ON TRADITION established during pioneer days in Western Canada, is Hudson's Bay Jasper avenue store. Gone are early facilities and methods, and in their place is city's most modern department store. "The Bay"—as in earlier days—still provides mecca for hosts of Edmontonians and visitors anxious to have both quality and value in their purchases. Rows of hitching posts on Jasper have given way to up-to-date car parking area behind store. Crowds of eager shoppers daily jam this mecca of real values. Here are two scenes inside busy "Bay." Left shows corner of grocereria where palates are tempted with tasty foods, and housewife's budget goes farther. Right shows part of men's ready-to-wear section, filled with quality-wise shoppers.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Tuesday, Nov. 28, 1950

Stone Engravings Depict History of Hudson's Bay Co.

Carved by hand and each taking approximately two weeks to complete, the six stone engravings on the facade of the Hudson's Bay Company's stone depict historical background of the Hudson's Bay Company.

Each of the engravings—two of which are on Jasper ave. and one each on 102 st. and 103 st.—adds character and dignity to the imposing stone building. The engravings are above the entrance.

SHOWS SETTLER
One of them shows an early Canadian settler tilling the soil, said which is known today as the world's most fertile and richest.

Full expression of determination and strength of character is shown on another engraving, that of a pioneer trader. His Indian-tanned fringed leather garb accentuates his stalwartness, while he firmly grasps his reliable musket. The bow of a birch-bark canoe affords a suitable background for carving.

The York boat was first developed in 1820 by the company for heavy transportation on inland waters. An engraving of one is shown above another of the entrance.

The York boats are lined descendants of the Viking galleys and the Orkney boats. Many of these vessels were built in Fort Edmonton. The larger ones were manned by a crew of eight middlemen, a howsman and a steersman and carried about 1,000 pounds.

MATERIAL FOR PORTAGES
A square sail was carried for favorable winds, and each boat had three duck covers, kettles, frying pans, axe, hammer, tool chest and ropes and roller for hauling the boat over portages.

The fourth engraving is that of the Nonouch, which brought the Gentlemen Adventurers to Canada. When one sees the engraving, one can visualize the hardships of the courageous crew of that boat as it plied its way across on uncharted ocean eagerly awaiting the sight of land.

FORT GARRY GOODS FAMOUS

"Fort Garry, please!" That is what people seeking fine quality ask for when they shop for tea, coffee and other products.

Manufactured exclusively for the Hudson's Bay Company, "Fort Garry" products are sold by store branches all across Canada and the North West Territories.

Expert Chefs At Coffee Shop

"Bay" customers don't have to hurry to get through their shopping when lunch time looms ahead. There's a coffee shop in the basement, ready to serve anything from a cup of coffee to a full course meal. The shop can handle 150 customers, with 21 efficient waitresses serving food cooked by cuisine experts.

World May See Comets Bigger Yet

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Dr. Fred I. Whipple, Harvard astronomer, believes that the world may see comets for more spectacular than Halley's, the comet that last appeared in 1910 and scared the daylights out of a lot of people.

Whipple, who recently developed a theory on the makeup of a comet, said at the National Academy of Sciences, that there are probably 100 billion comets now zooming around in the solar system.

His studies show that the nucleus of the average comet is about two miles in diameter, and that the larger ones, such as Halley's, go up to 10 miles in diameter.

Whipple said the comets move with the sun and that "undoubtedly some have been lost" when they got too close to the sun or some star outside our solar system.

INSIDE THE HEAD
His new theory says ice, ammonia and methane are inside the head of a comet. The cometic "snowball" reflects light from the sun and their tail is made up of gases and vapor caused by evaporation of the ice as the comet comes near the sun.

Whipple said it is unlikely that a comet would hit the earth in one piece, because heat from the earth's atmosphere would cause most of the comet to vaporize.

Nude Canvas Out of Sight

LONDON — (CP) — For more than two years, Wandsworth council has been grappling with the problem of what to do with its controversial picture, "Triumph in Blue."

Valued at $6,500, it was given to the borough by a Czech artist, Eugen Herrich, in gratitude for hospital care extended after he escaped from the Nazis during the war.

Measuring 24 ft. by 12 ft., it shows 12 unclothed young men and women cavorting on the grass, some of them dancing.

When the council accepted the picture it was insured for $2,000 but council members were in sharp disagreement where to put it.

DOOR LOCKED
Since installed it was a major work of art and should be given a place of prominence in the town hall or one of the public libraries. Others argued it was far too indecent and undignified for public display. Certainly, it could not go to a library where children would see it.

So for more than two years the picture has remained in secluded nook of a seldom-used town hall corridor. It is protected by a dust-sheet and the door to the passageway is usually locked.

When public functions necessitate use of the corridor, the dust-sheet is placed down securely to hide the charms of the prancing dancers from prying eyes.

BIGGEST DEMOLITION JOB DONE FOR HBC

One of the biggest demolition jobs ever undertaken in Edmonton made way for the Hudson's Bay Company's handsome new store at 107 street and Jasper.

Early in 1949 the brick structure which had occupied the site since 1904 and in which numerous excursions had been added, was torn down.

Air hammers were used to break up 1715 tons of solid concrete in the interior and outside walls and footings of the old store.

Fifteen concrete footings each weighing 22 tons under the six-story building at 107 street, while under the four-story section of the structure were 15 footings of similar weight and 20 concrete

FUR TRADING days were just beginning to pass into Canadian history books when Hudson's Bay Company opened its first retail store in Edmonton. The 1500 store, indicated by arrow, was development from old trading post and busy clerks took over from factor. Building was located on still grass-grown Jasper avenue. The gold rush was still eight years in future, striping Bulletin was 10 years of age, oil discoveries not even a rosy dream. Adventurous HBC's merchandise stores and posts in the centuries of British Empire expansion were mecca for trappers, travellers, early settlers.

A Story Set in the Canadian West of Today

Home is the Stranger

by Edward McCourt author of Music on the Cross

Norah came from Ireland at war's end and prepared to love her new home on the prairies as much as she loved Jim, the Canadian airman who had married her while he was overseas. This is the story of what happened to Norah and Jim, and their small son, Phillip, as they tried to make a life for themselves on their farm.

Bay Store Power Free Of Hazards

The Hudson's Bay store gets its power on a direct cable, laid underground, thus freeing it from such hazards as accidents and storms.

Lighting fixtures of the most modern type are another feature of the Hudson's Bay store here.

Should a power failure occur, a lighting plant burning natural gas would go into operation immediately. It starts automatically when the power stops and cuts off when regular power is resumed.

This emergency lighting plant provides light to strategic parts of the store such as entrances, passageways, boiler room and at intervals on the main floor of the store.

There are 46,150,370 dwelling units in the United States.

Cyanide guns actually are fired by the animals themselves when they come to investigate a scented "lure" and trip a hidden mechanism. The guns have proved highly successful in killing coyotes in southern Saskatchewan and officials wanted to make sure they are just as successful against timber wolves by packing more cyanide in the shells. OLD STYLE mode of travel is depicted in this copy of painting by noted Canadian artist A. Sherriff Scott. Official crest of Hudson's Bay Company is shown over entrance to one of early forts in Western Canada. Renegade Indians were reason for rugged construction of fortresses of that era.

Memento of City's Past Are On Display at Store

Want to see the handsome mode of travel popular with babies 60 years ago?

An inspection of the Hudson's Bay Company store windows here during anniversary celebrations will convince you that babies of the late 1800s really travelled in style.

On display—along with many other relics of the era—will be a genuine penumbulator which was in use for airing Edmonton babies in 1860.

The intricate ornamentation of the 60-year-old carriage makes an interesting contrast to the light, compact and streamlined baby carriages of the present day.

PIONEER DAYS.

For the student of pioneer days, the Bay's special window displays will present interesting study.

CHIEF FACTOR Richard Hardisty's "Big House" on the rise above Fort Edmonton. The picture was taken about four years after Miss Taylor's visit, when it had become the clubhouse of Edmonton's first golf club.

Trip Down Mackenzie In 1892 Is Made by Woman

This is a beautifully situated place is beautifully situated on the high banks of the North Star of 1892 concerning the fast-growing frontier settlement of Edmonton. "I had rather live here than any small Canadian town I have seen." That visitor, on her way north to the Mackenzie Delta, was Elizabeth Taylor, youngest daughter of the popular United States consul at Winnipeg, James Wickes Taylor.

Details of the trip are told in an article by James Taylor, born in the June, 1900, issue of "The Beaver."

The Mackenzie River trip had been vaguely planned for several years. She had had it in the back of her mind when she made a final trip up the Niagara in 1888 to see how good a camper she would turn out to be. With the extension of a branch line of the Canadian Pacific Railway to Edmonton in 1891, she was able to make definite arrangements to reach Peace River and return during the summer months. The earliest mention of the trip is to be found in a letter dated September 4, 1891. At that time she was living in a small apartment in Paris, just around the corner from the Luxembourg Gardens. She was studying art as well as making all plans for her trip. Consul Taylor's many friendly contacts with officials of the Hudson's Bay Company were most valuable to her. He thoroughly approved of the journey.

PLANS TRIP

Miss Taylor had first planned a trip through the Peace River region. "A Hudson Bay trader," she reported, "told me I was to have some work over a certain very difficult part of the way, turn out, on private inquiry, not to be a suitable escort. . . But in a letter received a few days ago, my Hudson Bay Company correspondent suggests another (the Mackenzie River) as being the cheapest, the easiest and the pleasantest trip to be taken in our territories."

With that decision made, she sought help from a friend in Paris, Ernest Seton Thompson, who was interested in taking the same trip the following year.

Miss Taylor corresponded with the British Museum and with men like Jock A. Allen, of New York's Museum of Natural History, about gathering together specimens of birds, flowers, fish. They advised her to collect everything she could lay her hands on.

So, armed with botanizing equipment and bird books, with letters of introduction from Sir Donald A. Smith, Archbishop Tache and others, and filled with an unusual enthusiasm "for three months of pure air, for new birds, new animals and new fish and flowers; a new world, strange and desolate, but wonderfully interesting," she left Paris and her art studies behind her on March 20, 1892. She spent one month in England shopping and studying, and then proceeded west, destination, the Mackenzie Delta.

Elizabeth Taylor's entries in her lengthy journal of the Mackenzie River trip were first begun the day she left the Latin Quarter of Paris. But it wasn't until two months later that she really started the first lap of the journey. That was the day she left Calgary, accompanied by Inspector James McDonald of the Hudson's Bay Company.

In a letter she told of the trip to Edmonton. "It was a sharp, cold day, when we left Calgary. We could see for about three hours the jagged peaks of the Rockies showing above the brown awula of land—perhaps fifty miles away. . . For hours we saw hardly a house. At intervals a place for watering the engine, a little house for the man to change, and that was all. This road is a new one and civilization has hardly set in."

Nearing Edmonton, she came upon signs of soldiers, and at one place about four hundred Hodgey Indians came down to meet the train and see it pass.

It was upon her arrival at Edmonton, seeing the town first from across the river at Saskatchewan, that Miss Taylor wrote "This little are changed when a lady can travel for pleasure and information, without escort, over the ground where Richardson, Black and Franklin suffered such terrible privations and hardships, and even death, not so very long ago."

DAVS BUSY

Miss Taylor's five days there were filled with letter writing and social visits, but she did take some time out to walk around the town and to see some necessary last-minute shopping for the trip down north. There were visits from the wives of Hudson's Bay Company employees, friends of her father. While Miss Taylor was visiting, writing letters, looking around the town and shopping at the Company's store for additional camping supplies for her trip, the townspeople of Edmonton were busy pending over why she was there. As reported to her, the general impression around town seemed to be that she was going in to marry a millionaire of the Athabasca district.

"Being a bashful young woman," she wrote, "I am fearful of what the local paper, to be published on Monday, will say of me."

NO WORRY

Miss Taylor need not have worried. As she left Edmonton in the midst of the celebrations for Queen Victoria's birthday, she may even have picked up a copy of the previous day's Bulletin, which had this to say:

Immigration Plan Outlined

CALGARY, Nov. 28.—(CP)—A comprehensive immigration scheme to bring 50 Dutch families to the Brooks, Alta., area beginning next March was outlined here today by Wietse Tjebbes, Dutch-born Buenos Aires businessman, who is organizing the plan.

Mr. Tjebbes is completing plans for the project which would establish Dutch far ers on 4,500 acres of irrigated land near Brooks. The project provides them with a sprinkler system for irrigation in the first year, allows them use of farm machinery on a co-operative basis and provides each family with a house.

A private limited company was formed and registered in Edmonton by Mr. Tjebbes's son, Pieter, a prominent potato farmer in Grande sports stadiums.

Snow Flurry Worry

Yesterday the weatherman predicted snow flurries. Now I want to ask the weatherman these questions: (1) How can a person tell when a flurry becomes a snowstorm? (2) When are you going to institute a system of flurry warnings so that a citizen won't get lost between his front gate and the front door?

(3) How many flurries make a blizzard? (4) Will we need snow plows on Jasper avenue if there are more flurries today?

(5) Will your next forecast cause a flurry of excitement around our town? (6) Do you think hip boots suitable for snow flurries?

Rail wreck aftermath: Parker Davis of Jasper writes, suggesting I hand an orchid to Jasper war veteran Leo Whitty for doing a whole lot "all on his own" for soldier victims of the tragic train collision last Tuesday.

My good friend Stewart Currie suggests that Wall Street is misnamed. It should be Waller Street, says Stewart.

Marge Allen is a charming lady who recently saw the error wasting her life in the southern cone of Calgary and moved to western Canada's fastest-growing metropolis.

Here she opened an office at 114 Clarke Building and advertised she is ready to do public stenography, financial statements and bookkeeping income tax reports.

Her first customer didn't make the Allen cash register ring. Neither did he register with Marge. He was sure she must be the Marge Allen who was his sweetheart's cousin and was some time ago.

He was sobbing violently when he reluctantly cradled his telephone.

Sure looks as if a white Christmas is in old Santa's bag. See where a deer stole a hunter's gun down in Michigan. The hunter needn't worry. Some game warden will grab the deer on a charge of shooting without a hunting license.

Nicest dream I ever had: That somebody smashed all the records of Jingle Bells in every radio station on the continent.

Elegant Elsie is pretty sharp-sometimes, she said yesterday. "No wonder the Argonaut Rowing Club won that football game Saturday."

A warm goodnight to all and especially to people who get lost 10 feet from their front doors in snow flurries.

City Warehouse Firms Oppose Traffic Program

Vigorous protest against assault on what they called their "vested rights" was registered before city council last night by six large downtown warehouse and business firms.

They were opposing Town Planning Board's plan to relieve growing traffic congestion in the downtown warehouse area.

Admirers approved in principle at the plan after more than an hour's legal debate with the warehouse firms, and gave final approval to a bylaw implementing the plan.

If warehouse firms are not interested in doing something with parking congestion in the warehouse district, why should the city as a whole intervene with them?

Said S. Bruce Smith, counsel for Northern Hardware, Hardware Storage, Home and Piffard, Western Supplies, Marshall-Wellis, and Ted and Purves.

SHOULD CONTINUE
He maintained that property used for one purpose at the time a town planning change is made should be allowed to continue in that usage.

Smith said the warehouses with on-street loading facilities have "a vested right" to use of the streets for loading and unloading, since they have been doing so for years. "We have a dedicated right."

"Is it fair to the whole city that these vested interests should block off our streets?" asked S. B. Clark.

"The distribution business is a major division of Edmonton's economic life and this is its right to the street. That is what you interfere with by this bylaw," answered Mr. Smith.

He objected heatedly that building owners had been given no notice of intention to make certain changes in land use of the warehouse area, but several aldermen pointed out that normal advertising would take place immediately.

SMALLER SCALE
Any proposal, as suggested in the letter, would be similar to one introduced by Edmonton, but on a smaller scale.

No Action On Civic Centre

'I Don't Know Just What To Do,' Says Ald. Clarke

Edmonton's aldermen made no discernible progress last night toward appointment of a special Civic Centre committee.

Ald. Ed Clarke moved his proposed motion that a special committee be set up to consider all aspects of future use and development of the central downtown site where First West Amsterdam Corporation proposed to put its $20,000,000 "Miracle Mile."

But with practically no discussion, council agreed to Ald. Altheimer Bisset's motion that the proposed body, and council be given results of the discussions.

PUEZZLED

If the recent plebiscite on the proposed "betwixter agreement" covering the downtown development had been either defeated by a strong majority, or passed by a strong majority, there would have been no need for his motion, said Ald. Clarke. But because a narrow margin defeated the projected deal, I think citizens expect council to do something—although I frankly don't know just what," he said.

A $3,000,000 bond issue council could do something—although I frankly don't know just what," he said.

The proposed committee should include one or two prominent financial men of the city, Ald. Clarke suggested.

Jr. Beef Club Organized At Clover Bar

Clifford Corroon has been elected president of a Junior Beef Club at Clover Bar organized under the direction of the Edmonton district agricultural.

The club has 26 members and was formed at a meeting at East Clover Bar school.

Other officers: Larry Scher, secretary; Miss Audrey Latam, treasurer; Alex Bell, club leader; Joseph Miller, Thomas Jackson and J. B. Corcoran, audit executive.

25 Decrees Are Granted

Two absolute decrees of divorce and 23 decrees nisi were granted in Supreme Court Monday by Mr. Justice J. C. McArthur.

He awarded the absolute decrees to Annie from Steve Denbick and Agnes from Lawrence Bodgen.

Receiving decrees nisi were Mike from Sybil Geran, Clarence from Ruth Workman, Jack from Katherine Kaynes, Maria from Jacob Frick, Charles from Ida Schmidt, Edna from Charles Arkinwald, Wilma from Elia Shaskan, Axel from Sylvia Uveland, Sylvester from Arva Kuitman, Aileen from Thomas Blech, Henry from Maxine Beach, Alexander from Bruce Christian, Barbara from Michael Kachner, Jean from Steve Padbury, Carol from Patrick West, and Agnes from August Gordon.

Talent Search At Evansburg

Northern Alberta's search-for-talent contest, directed by the Edmonton branch of Associated Canadian Travelers, is pointing at the community of Edmonton.

On Dec. 2 the residents of Evansburg and district will gather at the County hall for their local artists competing for the three top positions in the local contest and for an opportunity to enter the elimination contest in Edmonton next May.

Tobacco Output

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The world will produce 2,250,000,000 pounds of tobacco during the year ending next June 30, the agriculture department estimated yesterday. This would be about 2 per cent above 1949-50 production.

HIGHEST MARKS in nine-year history of Fort Monmouth, N.J., Signal School were chalked up by Signalman Michael Patrick O'Brien, Calgary, now stationed in Edmonton. O'Brien, sent from his Royal Canadian Corps of Signals unit this year for seven and a half months tour of U.S., breezed through teletype and installation course with 98 per cent, also batted well in romance league. He recently married with consent of his fiancée, whom he met while taking course. She is in Edmonton with him.

COST OF MONEY IS UP, COUNCIL FINDS

It's costing Edmonton more to raise money than it did six months ago.

A $3,000,000 bond issue approved last night by city council went to Imperial Bank of Canada syndicate at a discount. But last may a $4,000,000 issue was sold at a slight premium.

Commissioner John Hodgson attributed the change to raising by the Bank of Canada of the discount rate from one and one-half to two per cent and the city's large building program, which accentuates financing difficulties.

Imperial Bank syndicate's bid was $98,288, to yield 3.59 per cent.

Jury Finds Youth Guilty

A Supreme Court jury Monday found Michael Patrick O'Brien, Calgary, and Richard LaPere, 21, no plover accused, guilty of dangerous driving.

He was remanded until Thursday for sentence by Mr. Justice Hugh Macdonald after his counsel, Stuart Purvis, asked for a light sentence as the accused could carry out his plan to join the RCMP.

WILD RIDE ENDS IN JAIL

'You're Very Lucky You're Alive,' Judge Tells Man

A wild car chase through city streets in which a pedestrian was knocked unconscious, two cars sideswiped, one light standard smashed and several accidents narrowly averted had its sequel in court yesterday.

Waldemar Berzena, 1904-104 street, a Latvian immigrant, pleaded guilty to three charges in court Monday and was sentenced to 30 days for drunken driving, two months for dangerous driving and three months for leaving the scene of an accident. All terms will run concurrently.

The wild ride began at 6:30 p.m. Saturday when a peckish, Fred Shum, 10810-85 street, was knocked down at 85 avenue and 199 street. Shum was knocked unconscious.

Hawrelak Mayor Till Jan. 16th

Ald. Armour Ford Is Deputy Mayor

Edmonton's mayoralty problem was solved Wednesday at least by the city council last night with the appointment of Alderman William Hawrelak as full-time acting mayor until Jan. 16.

The city also retains services of Ald. Armour Ford as deputy mayor for balance of his current term, which expires Jan. 16.

City council rebuffed these conclusions because carrying out recommendations of the committee would involve a change in the law.

Aldermen may appoint an acting mayor whenever a deputy mayor is "unable or unwilling to act." They did not want Ald. Hawrelak, said Ald. Ford had said he is unable to give Mayor Sid Parsons' tenure with consent of his law business retention.

NORMAL TERM
The January 16, 1951, Hawrelak scheduled to take the normal 180-day term as deputy mayor, but he was not definitely settled last night whether he will be confirmed in that post at the time.

Aldermen Fred Mitchell and Ald. Armstrong said the 120 per day job should be "shared."

"I had assumed to take 10 days of the make myself available," said Ald. Mitchell. "There are others who are available. After all, the only job with any pay in it is the one which is available to the city council with no extra pay."

Power Service To Be Boosted

Enhancement of Lee Roy Power plant next spring to increase electrical output to the city was announced Wednesday by W. H. Penner, president of Northland Utilities Ltd.

Northland recently purchased the plant and distribution system supplying 500,000 customers in the district from private operation. A $500,000 investment is being made.

Ald. F. A. Ford and Joe Kahan were named to the new board which will supervise the plant and system giving another service.

superintendents and assistant superintendents of city departments.

A special meeting will be held soon to decide on mayor and commissioners' salaries, aldermen were told.

Ald. F. A. Ford and Joe Kahan were named to the new board which will supervise the plant and system giving another service.

Finance committee was given a study of J. H. Dalrymple letter applying for a lease on part of Victoria Park, for operation of an open air theatre.

Salary increases totalling $27,000 annually were approved for the 11 officers and members of Edmonton Preceptory No. 16 K.T.

Assemblies are being held on Wednesday, November 29th, at 8:00 p.m., and Thursday, November 30th, at 8:00 p.m. At the Wednesday Assembly, tickets will be distributed for a dinner on Thursday at 6:00 p.m.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Butter Churning In Whirl of Prices

By Bea Thrift

Boys of the butter brigade are churning up a few tricks for this week's program of events. Production has taken a seasonal slip in the face of things and as a result... price of a pound of golden-sweet butter jumped one cent yesterday.

This makes a shift of a 30c price to 60c for budget-busted shoppers.

But this is only the beginning. Government stores of butter, which elicits off at 5,000 pounds, will be released Friday to a demanding market.

And prophesy is that price will slide back down the scale to a 57c per cent retail price for grade A butter.

Grand result of all the shenanigans this week will be a one cent reduction in price per pound... unless new factors take a whack at the case.

With prices like these, homemakers find a pound of butter and a dozen eggs puts a couple of dollars high out of commission.

Grade A eggs are selling at 72c per large-sized dozen with pennies off for medium, small and pullet sizes.

One stroke of good fortune in this tag-end of November is the early arrival of Mandarin oranges right from the ale of Japan.

The luscious-sweet oranges, so easily peeled and filled with seedless delight, are selling at $1.50 per box and 17c to 22c per pound in assorted sizes.

I'm kinda partial to the Vitamin C Christmas goodies myself.

Brussels sprouts, broccoli, endive, Chinese Bachelors, firm ripe tomatoes, celery, grapes, red in green cabbages, beets, Spanish and white onions, sweet potatoes, turnips... are available in quantity.

A few green peas, from storage lockers, still-near carrots... radishes, lettuce, celery from the deep south... and a host of other meat-building vegetables will be with us for the Yuletide season.

Here's a tasty do for a pudding pleaser called Coffee Fudge Delight.

It turns out with a cake baked on a rich, flavorful sauce.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Lady Loves Have No Secret Wiles Wives Do Not Possess

When a middle-aged woman is a beautiful woman, her for some other woman she always demonstrates it to her husband. When she falls into the clutches of a woman, she is to her husband, just her youth and beauty.

This does she have her face, as the Chinese say, for it is apparent that no mortal woman can compete with a alien possession of supernatural powers of fascination.

For an old woman can be so beautiful, that she can make a man of time that will not wither, or even on her cheeks, that she looks as she on her head and that turns her once-beautiful girl into a strong, lean or a feather pillow.

No one excuse is as good as another for being so beautiful. A husband, and if it saves the pride of an abandoned wife to believe that her midlife is an act of God, for which she is in no wise responsible, then let her have that comfort.

No one would be cruel enough to take it from her, but as a matter of fact, neither of her alibi will hold water.

In the first place lady loves have no secret magic with which to confuse men that wives do not possess. And in the second place men marry for beauty, as is abundantly proved by the number of married women who were never Miss America.

Moreover, when a man takes out a wife who looks good to him she continues to look good to him until she does something besides loving her youth and beauty to destruction.

Outcome Clean If Not Lovely If you are an occasional housewife, you may not keep a supply of mechanical soap. But you can furnish a greasy job and be ready for dinner in a jiffy.

Just borrow a little kitchen cleaner from your wife. It isn't practical for lovely hands, but it will get the grime off.

Let Your Measurements Be Your Guide for Diet

By Josephine Lowman

Measurements make the woman! Let your measurements rather than pounds be the gauge of the condition of your figure.

This does not mean that you can weigh any amount and still have a lovely silhouette.

Of course, if you are overweight, you should reduce but your type measurement should be your guide in an important way. NOT TOO TIGHT.

Many women do not know how to take their measurements. In the first place do not pull the tape tight. On the other hand, do not have it slack—just pull it on an easy normal way. When you measure about the bust be sure you wear the same type and size bra before and after measurements.

You should take your waist measurement at your natural waistline. Do not pull your abdomen in an unnatural way, and do not pull it out. Try to stand as you do normally.

When you measure your hips stand with your weight equally divided between your feet. Measure about the large part of your hips.

If you would like to have my Ladies No. 40, "Weight Chart for Women," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Late Toilet Training Far More Effective

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Attitude toward toilet habits which is expressed by the term "breaking" the child, suggests the idea of force.

Force brings force on the part of the child and when the child opposes the parent in this very personal matter he bawls, blatters, control, the child is sure to win.

It is better, therefore, to think of training, instead of breaking, which gives the method used an entirely different aspect. Then it falls into its rightful place as habit training. The mother may offer opportunities at regular times, work with the child at these hours in which nature cooperates and eventually sell the child on the values of being clean and dry.

Later training is often amazingly effective. But children who have demands made upon them so early that they cannot be successful often grow bored and do not try to cooperate.

Our latest No. 60 "Toilet Behavior" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Friendship Scroll To Arrive in City By TCA at Week-End

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—A small uniformed welcoming committee will be on hand at Uplands Airport Wednesday—this time the occasion won't be the arrival of a visiting dignitary.

Instead, the group composed of Girl Guide heads in the capital, will receive a hand-painted illuminated scroll of Friendship.

The scroll, which carries the greetings of British Guides to the Guides of each of 28 member countries of the world association, has passed through the hands of Guides and Brownies throughout eastern Canada.

Trans-Canada Air Lines has arranged that its stewardesses hand each of the planes carrying the scroll will act as custodians. They make the presentation to local Girl Guides and accept the scroll for transport to the next stop.

After three days in the capital—including a visit to Government House—it will proceed to North Bay, Ont. From there it will fly to Knapik and Fort Williams, Ont., Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria.

Retiring Soon? Plan Hobby Now

Too many people who retire from business retire also from life shortly afterwards. The transition from a busy existence to one of idleness and boredom often tells upon the health unless there is some substitute interest.

Men and women who expect to retire in a few years should start to plan now for their future leisure by choosing hobbies that will give them a new interest in life with plenty of exercise for mind and body.

Big Defence Costs Last Long Period

TORONTO, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Heavy defence spending "perhaps for a generation" was predicted last night by Defence Minister Cline.

Canada's present direct defence budget is $567,000,000 and there's no telling where defence expenditures will stop," Mr. Cline said in an address to the Young Men's Canadian Club.

He stopped in Toronto on his way back to Ottawa from a 14,000-mile inspection tour to Fort Lewis, Wash., where he reviewed Canadian troops of the United Nations force prior to their sailing.

MUST BUILD UP

Confined military strength can prevent a third disastrous conflict, he said.

However, it involves us in the long-term necessity of maintaining and increasing strength of our present force. It entails a steady buildup.

Mr. Cline said that on his trip he conferred with U.S. Navy and Air Force officials, and with the cooperation of Canadian three destroyers in U.S. service, with U.S. Air Force officials, and with the U.S. Navy, concerning Canada's share in the effort, and with the North American Aviation Corporation regarding the production of the Canadian-designed Osprey engine in the RCA CP-109 jet fighter.

Tb. Rate In Canada Drops Fast

Edmonton will have the most moderate tuberculosis rate in Canada with the completion of the Albrecht hospital.

This was the comment of Dr. G. J. Wherrett, general secretary of the Dominion T.B. Association, during his visit in the city over the weekend. Here on an annual tour which includes with the Christian and Jewish churches, Dr. Wherrett conferred with Dr. H. H. Stephens, director of the T.B. Clinic, Dr. G. H. Ross, medical director of the T.B. center, and Dr. M. R. How, deputy medical director of the clinic.

The Canadian tuberculosis death rate is decreasing rapidly, Dr. Wherrett stated.

Quoted on a complaint about T.B. gone down, voiced at a recent Canadian Legion meeting, Dr. Wherrett related to comment. However, he said that the standard of service here was as high as anywhere in Canada and with the completion of the new hospital Edmonton would have it all to desired.

Dr. Wherrett left last night for the east by way of Saskatoon and Winnipeg.

The youth is charged with beating Patricia last driver Harry Rowland on Oct. 17, robbing him and stealing his last Chevrolet with the juvenile was Daniel Paradisi, another harvester.

The pair took the stolen car to Jasper, abandoned it and were later arrested in Kananaskis by RCMP. They made their first appearance for trial.

NICE, FRIENDLY LION

'Pet' Slinks Under Table After Feelings Are Hurt

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Major Sheridan, a full-time African lion, slunk under the kitchen table today. His feelings were hurt.

The city commission decided to adopt an antislavery ordinance aimed especially at him. A restaurant had called Major Sheridan a "poodle" yesterday, charging he mangled a seven-year-old boy who was playing games.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Franks, owners of the animal, are indignant at the commission's action.

"We'll move out of town before we give him up," they said. "It's certainly not going to a zoo."

The Franks said "many other cities" throughout the nation had invited them and their lion to take up a new home. As yet, they haven't decided what to do. The Franks said Major Sheridan is a friendly household pet and not a savage "king of the beasts." He is 18 months old and weighs 140 pounds. His best friend is a Scotty dog, "Scrappy."

Wally Sander, the Franks' attorney, said Scrappy takes no

'Merely Housewife,' Says Buchenwald's Ilse Koch

By Richard K. O'Malley
AUGSBURG, Germany, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Ilse Koch denied in court today that she had ever heard of the "Singing Horses" of Buchenwald concentration camp.

According to charges against the widow of the camp's former commandant, the "Singing Horses" were teams of Jewish prisoners, required to sing as they pulled heavy wagons along the camp's main road.

The plump, red-headed woman who said yesterday she was "merely a housewife" in the camp, insisted she had nothing to do with any of the cruel punishments at Buchenwald.

She admitted to the German court that she saw prisoners forced to carry heavy building stones, but claimed she had nothing to do with the camp administration or "T influence" on the way her husband ran it.

45 MURDERS

Frak Koch is charged with inciting 45 murders and 130 attempted murders of camp inmates — Germans and Austrians — and with responsibility for scores of other sins.

SINGAPORE, Nov. 28.—(Reuters)—Twenty Chinese Communists held up the headmaster of a Chinese night school in the middle of Singapore last night and forced 500 students and teachers to listen to Communist lectures. Thirty more Communists stood guard outside.

Diplomats to Get Closer Checking

New U.S. Immigration Rules Broaden Justice Dept's Powers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The government today published new immigration rules designed to broaden greatly justice department powers for screening the admissions of diplomats and United Nations delegations who enter the United States.

The regulations took immediate effect. They require that all diplomats, consular officials, and members of United Nations delegations be screened by the justice department before they are allowed to enter the United States.

Truman described the law, which requires that all diplomats, consular officials, and members of United Nations delegations be screened by the justice department before they are allowed to enter the United States.

Immigration service experts who have been working on the new rules since the bill was sent to the house have said that the new rules will be in effect by the end of the year.

Officially accredited diplomats accepted by the president, may continue to come and go with their immediate families at the pleasure of the president, but their admission may be questioned and barred to immigration officials if there is evidence of staff activity endangering the safety of the country.

Any diplomat to the United Nations, including the chief delegate, may be barred by immigration officials if his purpose is to engage in activity against the welfare or safety of the U.S.

As to the diplomatic and international organizations, school officials singled out the youth with such a dental record that he was not admitted to the United States.

Firemen Ask Pay Dispute Conciliation

Edmonton city fire fighters, seeking a $30 a month wage increase, have requested conciliation of their wage dispute with the city of Edmonton.

H. E. Bendickson, secretary of the provincial department of industries and labor has been appointed government conciliator in the dispute.

Wages of fire fighters in Edmonton was subject of a prolonged wage dispute last year. An arbitration board ruled that the firemen get an increase of $12.55 a month.

New agreement is due to go into effect at the first of 1961, and will likely incorporate decisions reached during conciliation talks.

Firemen are again requesting a $30 a month wage increase as a clause of the new agreement.

Social Study Needs Funds

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—(CP)—Canada's eight schools of social work asked the government to triple its social work training grant to $100,000 next year. They warned that unless the government forthcoming the shortage of welfare workers will become more serious.

The delegation was led by the committee chairman, Marjorie Smith of Vancouver.

The committee asked that the government consider increasing the social work training grant to a minimum of $100,000 for next year, and that serious consideration be given to a continuing plan which would cover a period of five years.

Operating on "restricted and inadequate" budgets, the schools had to get the maximum output from an overworked teaching staff for larger numbers of students than have ever been trained in Canadian history before.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Holly Wood Star James Stewart, who underwent an appendectomy Nov. 15, returned to work yesterday on the movie "No Highway."

With Premier E. C. Manning who is provincial treasurer, they are expected to submit evidence relating to revenues from taxation fields relinquished under the tax transfer agreement.

RELINQUISHED
Under the tax transfer agreement of 1947 Alberta relinquished the fields of corporation and income tax to the dominion government in return for an annual cash settlement based on population of the province. Last year this agreement amounted to $15,276,192.

The five-year 1947 agreement is due to expire in 1952.

Former Manitoba aid recently that income and corporation tax fields are now considerably more profitable than they were when the agreement was signed.

He suggested that the tax transfer arrangements should be revised before the next agreement is signed.

DELEGATES LIST
Alberta delegation, scheduled to reach Ottawa on Dec. 1 includes besides the Premier and Mr. Hawkins and Mr. Hucheyne.

Hon. Lucien M. Gaudet, attorney general, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, public health and welfare minister, A. H. Miller, deputy minister of welfare, H. J. Wilson, deputy attorney general, and J. F. Frowley, special counsel for the Alberta cabinet.

Entire delegation will join in the Dec. 4 conference on fiscal matters, and with the exception of Mr. Hawkins and Mr. Hucheyne, all members will attend the Dominion-Provincial conference on constitutional matters which follows the Dec. 4 talks.

Extra Posties
Needed Here
It is going to take 600 extra men to help out with Christmas mailing this year in Edmonton.

Post office officials announced here today they would hire approximately that number during the Christmas rush season.

Of these, 150 will be placed in the new advance building, 150 more on extra routes, and remainder in the post office building and various other stations.

At present, post office employees are installing, on the second floor of the main building, a three-way simplified system which will enable inexperienced workers to handle mail efficiently.

The plan will begin next June in the Commonwealth countries of India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Malaysia, Singapore, North Borneo and Sarawak.

The six-year program—known as the Colombo Plan—also calls upon governments outside the Commonwealth to help out with loans and grants. This is a clear invitation for the United States to link to the British plan its own "point four" program for aiding under-developed areas.

The plan will begin next June in the Commonwealth countries of India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Malaysia, Singapore, North Borneo and Sarawak.

It suggests that another 135,000,000 people in Burma, Indonesia, Thailand and Indo-China come under the program later. This would bring approximately one-fourth of the world's population into the program.

Of the total fund, 34 per cent would go to build up transport and communications, 32 per cent for agriculture, 18 per cent for housing, health and education, 10 per cent for fuel and power.

MOST FROM OUTSIDE
The Asian governments would put up $1,100,000,000. The remaining $3,032,200,000 would be obtained by: 1. Drawing on the $245,000,000 (1958-59) in Sterling balances held in London to the credit of India, Pakistan and Ceylon. These balances represent credits built up during the Second World War.

2. Government loans floated among private investors.

3. Loans from the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

4. Gifts and loans from other governments.

2. Government loans floated among private investors.

3. Loans from the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Holly Wood Star James Stewart, who underwent an appendectomy Nov. 15, returned to work yesterday on the movie "No Highway."

With Premier E. C. Manning who is provincial treasurer, they are expected to submit evidence relating to revenues from taxation fields relinquished under the tax transfer agreement.

RELINQUISHED
Under the tax transfer agreement of 1947 Alberta relinquished the fields of corporation and income tax to the dominion government in return for an annual cash settlement based on population of the province. Last year this agreement amounted to $15,276,192.

The five-year 1947 agreement is due to expire in 1952.

Former Manitoba aid recently that income and corporation tax fields are now considerably more profitable than they were when the agreement was signed.

He suggested that the tax transfer arrangements should be revised before the next agreement is signed.

DELEGATES LIST
Alberta delegation, scheduled to reach Ottawa on Dec. 1 includes besides the Premier and Mr. Hawkins and Mr. Hucheyne.

Hon. Lucien M. Gaudet, attorney general, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, public health and welfare minister, A. H. Miller, deputy minister of welfare, H. J. Wilson, deputy attorney general, and J. F. Frowley, special counsel for the Alberta cabinet.

Entire delegation will join in the Dec. 4 conference on fiscal matters, and with the exception of Mr. Hawkins and Mr. Hucheyne, all members will attend the Dominion-Provincial conference on constitutional matters which follows the Dec. 4 talks.

Extra Posties
Needed Here
It is going to take 600 extra men to help out with Christmas mailing this year in Edmonton.

Post office officials announced here today they would hire approximately that number during the Christmas rush season.

Of these, 150 will be placed in the new advance building, 150 more on extra routes, and remainder in the post office building and various other stations.

At present, post office employees are installing, on the second floor of the main building, a three-way simplified system which will enable inexperienced workers to handle mail efficiently.

The plan will begin next June in the Commonwealth countries of India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Malaysia, Singapore, North Borneo and Sarawak.

The six-year program—known as the Colombo Plan—also calls upon governments outside the Commonwealth to help out with loans and grants. This is a clear invitation for the United States to link to the British plan its own "point four" program for aiding under-developed areas.

The plan will begin next June in the Commonwealth countries of India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Malaysia, Singapore, North Borneo and Sarawak.

It suggests that another 135,000,000 people in Burma, Indonesia, Thailand and Indo-China come under the program later. This would bring approximately one-fourth of the world's population into the program.

Of the total fund, 34 per cent would go to build up transport and communications, 32 per cent for agriculture, 18 per cent for housing, health and education, 10 per cent for fuel and power.
